

Visit the Writing Center to celebrate the

National Day on Writing

October 20

Come anytime during the week of October 19-23 and contribute a response to the “Why I Write” display or post your reply on the Writing Center Facebook page.

(The Writing Center is located on the lower level of the Library, next to the Center for Academic Success.)

Each participant will receive a treat bag and have the opportunity to read others’ motivation for expressing themselves in writing.

We will also be drawing
awareness to VAWA
(Violence Against Women Act).

Come get inspired.
Come tell us why YOU write!
